

Pearls the perfect accessory to convey Power and Success

When it comes to dressing for success a woman can not choose a more appropriate symbol to articulate respect than a single strand of pearls. Men have always had the dark suit white shirt and red striped tie. It is just as proven the pearl choker in combination with a crisp business suit is the ultimate power attire.

Returning on a train from New York City recently a young lady boarded the train dressed in a navy blue suit white shirt and a lovely freshwater pearl choker. I speculated as to what she was doing in New York that day. I surmised she was a college student in New York On job a interview. When she caught me looking at her I asked are you a college student on an interview Yes she said in fact eight. What school do you attend? Harvard she responded. Well of course I should have known. The fact is her attire was perfect. The six millimeter freshwater pearls could not have been more perfectly suited for the image she projected. The freshwater strand was perfectly suited for her but when it is real power and accomplishment that needs to be conveyed the South Sea Pearl Neck and the Multi Strand Neck are The Ultimate Power Necks.

Worn by Senators and CEO's the South Sea Neck sends the message I am a serious person of authority. Respect me! It is the most common accessory in the halls of power. Diamonds do not command the respect the elegant pearl does. Bling Bling is not what a pearl strand is about when set in the halls of power. The history of the pearl has always been associated with a degree of power and success that no other woman's accessory can attain.

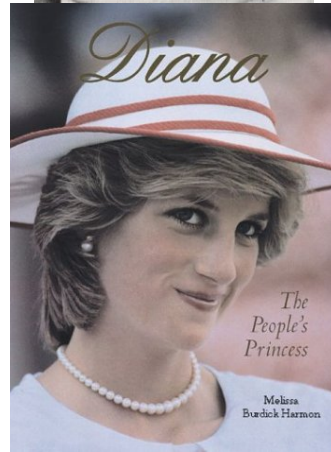

The perfect graduation gift to any young lady graduating college that is looking to pursue a career in business is a single strand cultured pearl neck. This tool will help send a message that I am a serious individual ready to do a great job.

If you are a more mature woman rising in your chosen field the best addition to your wardrobe is a larger South Sea or Multi strand pearl neck a more powerful statement than a right hand ring. An appropriate gift for a significant birthday, anniversary or career milestone.

PEARLS mean success. PEARLS mean excellence. PEARLS mean respect

Pearl is the ultimate example of the triumph of beauty, nature's divinity, misfortune transformed into splendor. Perhaps this is why humans have always been captivated by pearls. Pearls are a reminder that we too can rise above our obstacles and not only survive, but thrive

In "business traditional" environments, it's best to stick to classic pieces, such as a simple watch, small hoop earrings or a strand of pearls.

In the fiercely competitive business world, there are many things you can't control. Image isn't one of them. "People are going to make assumptions anyway," says Dexter. "I was a corporate recruiter for 15 years and have interviewed thousands of people and usually you can tell whether a candidate is going to be successful in two minutes - People have a much better overall general perception of you when you're dressed for the environment."
